WHAT SIZE DO I NEED?

A guide to measuring up

We state dimensions on every piece of furniture (height x width x depth). We also state if an item will arrive fully assembled or if assembly is required.

Self Assembly

No Assembly Required

Check your new furniture will fit in your intended location

Will it fit?

As well as looking good, your furniture needs to work within your chosen space. Check how it will fit in your room by marking out the dimensions with masking tape or newspapers.

Practicalities

By marking out the dimensions you are able to check practicalities such as if you will be able to easily navigate around your new furniture.

Functional considerations

For some furniture you may need to allow extra space from the stated dimension to open draws or cupboards.

Getting your new furniture into your home

Take a note of the largest dimensions of your new furniture so you can make sure that it will comfortably fit through any doorways, hallways or stairs on the way into your chosen space.

WHAT PIECES DO I NEED?

Key considerations & tips

We offer a wide range of collections and individual pieces in a number of colours. What you decide is best for your room is up to your own style and taste, however, you may wish to consider these tips before deciding on what's best for you.

Consider storage and display

Consider end use

Consider room layout

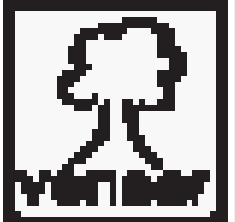

For example using high backed dining chairs is a great way to separate out dining and living space, where as lower backed chairs can help create a more open plan feel.

For a fully co-ordinated look we offer key pieces by collection, get inspiration by looking through our dining, living and bedroom furniture sections of the website.

HOW IS OUR FURNITURE MADE?

Material	Solid Wood	Solid Wood Veneer
Finish	Beautiful and natural. Each piece is truly unique, individual and full of character with different grain patterns and slight colour variations.	The furniture has been finished with layers of real wood (adhered to an engineered board) so you will still get the look and feel of real wood.
Price	Our beautiful solid real wood pieces can be higher in price than other material equivalents.	Often lower in price than the solid wood equivalent.
Other	Solid wood can be heavy so bear this in mind if you regularly move your furniture around. Also buying all solid wood pieces in one batch will help reduce colour variation.	Veneer is much lighter than solid wood so is easier to move around the home. It is also more stable than solid wood and able to cope better with temperature changes than solid wood.

Some of our ranges are made from both solid wood and veneer components in order to deliver the best performance and design.

HOW IS OUR FURNITURE MADE?

Material	Wood Effect Finish
Finish	The furniture has the look of real wood, but with a more consistent colour and finish. This is achieved by adhering foil to an engineered board. A great way to get a fully co-ordinated look.
Price	Great value prices.
Other	Gives a great consistent finish that won't change over time. Tends to be self-assembly.

MATERIAL GUIDE

Hardwood

Comes from deciduous trees that drop their leaves every year. They have a slower growth rate resulting in a higher density of wood that is harder and often more expensive. Examples of hardwood are oak, ash, walnut and birch.

Oak

Oak is the most widely used hardwood, it is a dense hardwood so oak furniture is very durable and hardwearing. Colour varies from light to medium brown and is mainly straight grained, it can be finished to give a depth of colour.

Softwood

Comes from conifers, trees that have needles and don't usually lose them. They have a faster growth rate resulting in a lower density of wood that is softer and less expensive. Pine is an example.

Pine

Pine solid wood is a more affordable price than oak. A lighter weight than oak or ash it can either be straight grain or knotty in appearance. A great material to apply to interesting finishes.

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR NEW FURNITURE

Solid Wood and Wood Veneer Furniture

Our wooden furniture could be finished in a number of different ways. It may have an oiled or lacquered finish. If the wood is untreated then it may just be finished with a colourless wax.

Oiled furniture should be re-coated every 6 months in order to maintain its condition and look.

Our wood furniture should be dusted with a soft dry cloth, however if you need to clean for any reason, a slightly damp cloth is the best cleaning agent.

Although polishes are quick and easy to use, those containing silicone may damage the surface of the furniture over time and should be avoided.

Wood Effect Finish

Like solid wood furniture dust with a soft dry cloth, however if you need to clean for any reason, a slightly damp cloth is the best cleaning agent.

HOW TO CARE FOR YOUR NEW FURNITURE

Gloss Finishes

Gloss finishes are prone to light surface scratch and it is therefore very important that you care for this finish correctly.

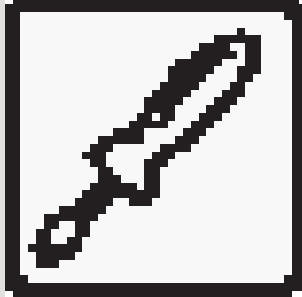

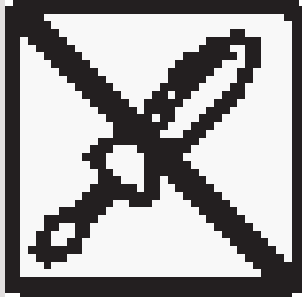

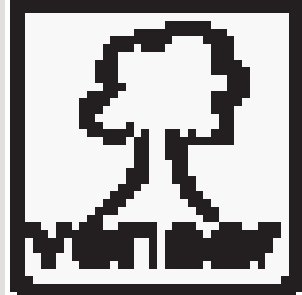

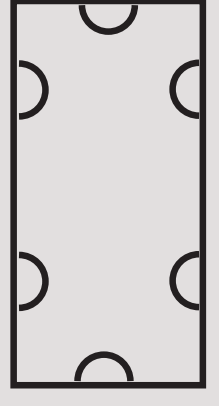

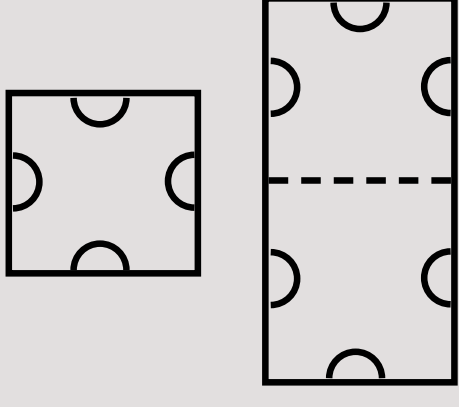

Do not use furniture polish for general cleaning, dust periodically with a soft clean lint-free cloth or a soft micro fibre cloth.

Please note soft cloths (including yellow dusters) contain abrasive fibres which can lightly scratch the surface. If in doubt please try your cloth in an inconspicuous area of the furniture first to assess its suitability.

A sample cloth is included within the 'hardware pack'.
