WARDROBE BUYING GUIDE

HOW TO MEASURE FOR A WARDROBE

Don't worry about the tricky assembly, these products are built and installed by a team of professional and experienced fitters.

THE SPACE YOU WILL NEED EITHER SIDE FOR ASSEMBLY

There are three measurements you need to take when sizing up for your new wardrobe: height, width and depth.

Our Jenson hinged and sliding wardrobes require 5cm clearance either side and overhead. The Jenson range is not fitted with a frame or cornice. The handy image shows an example of a frame or cornice.

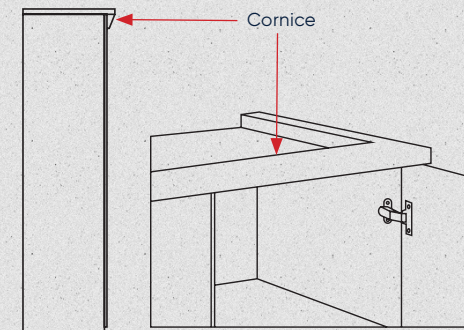

CLEARANCE - HINGED VS SLIDING

Consider the floor space in front of your wardrobe, too. No wiggle room? No problem. Sliding wardrobes are a great option because you don't need to factor in any space for outward-opening doors. Hinged doors require 50cm space for complete opening.

INTERNAL ACCESSORIES

Now you have chosen the perfect wardrobe to fit your space and style, you need to review how the space inside will work for you. Each wardrobe comes with 2 shelves and 1 hanging rail per compartment as standard. However if you prefer folding to hanging then you may want to add some extra shelves or internal drawers. Alternatively, if you have lots to hang, you may want additional rails. The below internal accessories are available in a range of sizes to suit every wardrobe and the handy matrix below shows you which ones fit where.

ACCESSORIES INCLUDED IN EACH COMPARTMENT

ACCESSORY MATRIX

The internal line drawing under each wardrobe image shows the accessories that will already be included in that size wardrobe. If you require additional accessories, the matrix shows which options fit in which wardrobe. As some wardrobes are made up of different sizes compartments, this may mean that more than one size of internal accessory may fit in that wardrobe. It is important to consider the set up you are hoping to achieve and review the compartment you are wanting to build into.
